Are community organizations in your network looking to work together to address a complex community issue? Are you (or a member of your team) a seasoned facilitator interested in helping organizations learn more about Collective Impact?

Innoweave is developing an open access workshop curriculum that you can use. If you have some knowledge or experience in Collective Impact and facilitation skills, Innoweave's Collective Impact Facilitator Session might be for you.

This facilitator session will be held in Toronto, hosted by the PricewaterhouseCoopers Canada Foundation, and led by Paul Born and Liz Weaver of Tamarack - An Institute for Community Engagement. The session will involve:

- An orientation on Wednesday, September 4 from 1:00-3:00pm EDT, by conference call
- Observation of an Innoweave Collective Impact Workshop on Monday, September 9 from 8:00am - 5:00pm EDT
- De-brief and follow-up on the workshop and discussion of next steps

Participants in this opportunity will have open access to the Innoweave curriculum, and be able to run workshops for their communities and networks.

To apply, click here and follow the instructions to create an application. Prior to creating an application, you will need to create an account and log in.

Applications to take part in this facilitator training are due August 12th. Note: spaces are limited - successful applicants will be notified by August 16th.

If you have any questions, please contact info@innoweave.ca.

Thanks,

The Innoweave Team
